Applications are invited from outstanding students for the Summer Research Internship (SRI-2023) Program at the Manipal Centre for Natural Sciences, Centre of Excellence.

Summer Research Internship is an annual program at MCNS, intended to introduce participants to fundamental research. SRI-2023 will be conducted during June – July 2023.

Statements of interest are invited in the following research areas:

Astrophysics Nuclear Physics Particle Physics

Selections are highly competitive and only a limited number of supported internships are available.

Support for internships includes:

Stipend (consolidated pay)*	Rs. 15,000/-
Travel Expenses (Within India - to and from Udupi)	Up to AC 3-Tier
Accommodation (on-campus)	Free

Subject to the successful completion of the internship - Full participation in the program is a condition for eligibility for a certificate.*

Benefits:

Interns interact with active and eminent research faculty on the chosen areas of research. Personalized program provides an opportunity for the intern to get acquainted with necessary observational /computational /theoretical techniques appropriate to the research area and to acquire basic knowledge and skills required for contemporary research in the field. Interns will have the opportunity to experience the entire research life cycle right from the statement of the problem to writing an original research article in the format of the best journal in the field.

Who can apply:

Students, from India, who are highly motivated to do pure research and currently enrolled at a recognized institute in any of the programs below (or equivalent) are eligible to apply:
M.Sc, M.Tech, M.A | Integrated M.Sc, Integrated M.Tech | B.Sc, B.Tech, B.A.
In addition, students who have completed their undergraduate programs within the last 12 months may also apply. Selection will be subject to availability.
